"I am not entitled to the vote of any man who does not favor the Election Law."—William Goebel at Homestead.

"I will be as liberal as Mr. GOEBEL. I do not want the vote of any man who is in favor of the Election Law."—W. S. Taylor of London.

LEWIS COUNTY Republicans are right in line for the whole ticket, and Hon. William H. Cox will have a majority there of not less than 600.

THE Goebelites have imported a number of foreign speakers, not the least of whom is WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, who is to speak at the First Baptist Church. Not content with this, they brought to the state the "Democratic Marching Club," 229 strong, from Chicago, to terrorize people into voting for King Goebel. The Republicans, on the other hand, have been able to find enough Kentuckians to present their case to Kentuckians.

A TELEGRAM from Lexington says: "CHARLEY MILLER, a young lawyer and Goebel's leader here, has been using the name of the state of Kentucky by the Democrats. He has accepted the question, is he not? I am sure he is a regrettably bad candidate for Representative in Estill county."

Nothing strange about that. Everything goes, just so long as Goebel is to be the beneficiary. Very likely, Kentucky is in the clutches of the machine.

LOYAL and consistent Democrats—and there are millions of them—must bluse for their party and the reputation which its would-be leaders are making for it when they read AGRICULTURE's latest manifesto. The Goebelites, however, there is a great party that insists upon the Government's recognizing Filipino independence, and we should pray God that the great Democratic party shall win at the next election, and imperialism fall in its mad attempt to subjugate us by force of arms."

GRANTING ABSOLUTION

Bryan Would Condone the Offenses of Goebel By Making Him Governor.

VOTERS, READ AND REFLECT.

Louisville Post.
At Davierville Mr. Goebel said: "For all that was wrong at the Louisville Convention charge it to me!" At Mt. Sterling yesterday Mr. Bryan, with astonishing self-assertion, said:

"If you tell me that you are doubtful about this ticket standing for Democratic principles, I will tell you I am willing, so far as I am concerned, to take all the responsibility on myself."

On what does Mr. Bryan feed, that he should assume this work for the voters of Kentucky? In this state each man decides such a question for himself. His ballot is his own, not another's. His conscience is his own, and he gives it into no man's keeping.

What responsibility can fall on Mr. Bryan, when in this state we are forced to face with the overwhelming calamity of Goebel as Governor?

In fact, Mr. Bryan does not know what he is talking about. Goebel as Governor, and you responsible? How responsible, Mr. Bryan? When from the Governor's mansion, or from Goebel's law office malignant letters go, destroying men's reputations as this season thought to destroy the reputation of John Sandford; what good would it do, though we say Bryan is right?

You can't sit with no idea of the consequences of your speech. You have not read Goebel's article in the Covington Leader of April, 1895, or would you not take the hand of the man you are asking the people of Kentucky to elect Governor. You would not travel in the same car with him. Head that infamous article, concealed in hate and brought forth in cowardice; read it alone, and then go to the Asylum at Lexington and pay to the widow of John Sandford a visit of consolation and apology for ever asking a single Kentuckian to vote for Goebel.

Ah, Mr. Bryan, there are things in life better worth having than the applause of multitudes; better worth having than a Presidential nomination; better worth having than the Presidency itself. Put yourself in Sandford's place. Read your own name into that villainous article. In imagination walk down the streets of Lexington, and then you will have sensed your character and your life. Think of the future of your wife, let with your protection; think of your happy family scattered in the four quarters of the globe. Then, if you will, sit down and peep into the "For whom the bell tolls" and change it to me." Perhaps you can then do it, though we do not believe it. But if you should do it, you would know why the people of Kentucky turn their backs upon you.

VEDED QUESTION.

Nothing Was Heard Thursday From London Regarding the Alaska Modus Vivendi.

OUR MAXIMUM CLAIM NOT MAINTAINED

New Arrangements Draw a Line From Chilkoot Pass to a Mountain Peak West of the Dalton Trail.

This Line Cuts Off the British Possessions From Navigable Water—Also Throws Into American Territory a Section of the Forepence Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Up to the close of the state department Thursday afternoon nothing had been heard from London respecting the Alaskan modus vivendi.

What the details of the arrangements are made public, which will follow immediately upon its conclusion, it will be found that nearly all of the attempts made up to this point to describe the new boundary line accurately were inadequate in important respects. The maximum claim of the United States is not maintained. That was not to be expected in this arrangement which was intended principally to settle the question as to the Dalton trail route is concerned. No attempt was made to establish a claim to that territory lying between the head of Chilkoot pass and White pass, and the lakes to the north.

It does not follow that the United States has relinquished the extreme claim at that point, but simply that by mutual agreement, reached about two years ago, the two points were to be passed over as marching points of a temporary divisional line, without sacrificing the permanent rights of either party. This arrangement has been found to work absolutely without friction, and the present is believed to be an inopportune time to disturb it.

The point where the trouble threatened was on the Dalton trail which by the way, is not directly the same as the other, though the side trail does connect the points, but is rather the natural pathway from Pyramid harbor into the Klondike. The United States government could scarcely contend at this point that the boundary line was to be defined by the prescribed zone of 30 miles from the sea, for this section of the country there was, under the circumstances, no change in which case the treaty provided that this range should fix the boundary.

Therefore, the new arrangements draw a line from Chilkoot pass in a direction a little south of west to a mountain peak about ten miles west of the Dalton trail. This line cuts across the Chilkoot river some distance above the town of Kuskwan, thus completely cutting off the British possessions from navigable water, and thus placing American territory a triangular section of the Forepence country, of considerable extent, which was claimed by Canada, and which is now being prospected by a number of American miners who were driven out of the Atlin country by adverse British Columbian legislation. Crossing this in the western section is the lower end of the Dalton trail, of which the United States obtains possession, as well as of its terminus, Pyramid harbor.

A Fight With Smugglers.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Assistant Secretary Vanderlip Thursday received a telegram from the Consul at Cheowen, in Nagasare, Asia, in which he says that Inspector Hathaway and a companion had found a gang of six smugglers. A fight followed in which two of the gang were killed, four escaping. Later reports indicate that the smugglers were being reinforced. A quantity of smuggled mescal and contraband stock were seized.

The Plague at Santos.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Gen. Young's advance guard of Gen. Lawton's column left Cabimas Thursday morning, and San Isidro, half past 1 o'clock. The American loss was 10 killed and three wounded. The heaviest resistance met with was at San Fernando, where the enemy destroyed a bridge. Gen. Pio Del Pilar arrived from San Miguel and personally commanded the Filipinos. He and the bulk of the enemy retreated up the river. One Spaniard and 15 insurgents were captured. The loss of the enemy is not known. The town parties appear to be friendly.

Some Owners Attend the Trials.
WAGNERSON, Oct. 29.—Gen. Young, who has been besieged with invitations by theater managers in the cities he has visited since his return from Manila to attend their theaters, made an exception to the rule Thursday night and occupied a box at the Columbia theater on the personal invitation of Francis Wilson, who is playing his burlesque on Cyrano de Bergerac.

CRIMINALS APPOINTED.

Gen. Ludlow, Military Governor of Havana, Writes Regarding the Characters of Census Enumerators.

HAVANA, Oct. 29.—Gen. Ludlow, military governor of Havana, has written to Gen. Broome regarding the selection of many criminals and men under police surveillance, as census enumerators in Havana. Gen. Ludlow said to a representative of the press that many of the men appointed had unsavory records, the list including perfurers, swindlers, blackmailers and men leading immoral lives.

Neither Gov. Gen. Brooke nor Gen. Ludlow is able to interfere with the census, as it is controlled by the Washington government, but Gen. Ludlow thought it his duty to notify the governor general of certain facts which had come to his notice as military governor of the city, which facts Gen. Brooke will probably transmit to Washington.

Gov. Gen. Brooke says the census in Havana will be completed by the end of the month.

Col. Federico Bacallao, chief of the secret police, has made seizure of 4,743 Remington rifles, 150 Mausers and 100 carbines.

BIG STRIKE THREATENED.

Conductors, Engineers, Firemen, Brake-men and Switchmen on the Great Northern May Walk Out.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 29.—A general strike on the Great Northern will probably occur within a very few days. It will include conductors, engineers, firemen, brakemen and switchmen, and the men expect to tie the road up from end to end. In the great strike of five years ago the Great Northern was the only line which had been recognized as marching points of a temporary divisional line, without sacrificing the permanent rights of either party. This arrangement has been found to work absolutely without friction, and the present is believed to be an inopportune time to disturb it.

The point where the trouble threatened was on the Dalton trail which by the way, is not directly the same as the other, though the side trail does connect the points, but is rather the natural pathway from Pyramid harbor into the Klondike. The United States government could scarcely contend at this point that the boundary line was to be defined by the prescribed zone of 30 miles from the sea, for this section of the country there was, under the circumstances, no change in which case the treaty provided that this range should fix the boundary.

A Portrait of the noted Confederate Will Be Placed in the Gallery of the Military Academy at West Point.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 29.—The brig Julian Schlosser recently arrived here on her way to Brazil and reported that during the voyage the helmsman had murdered the captain, the captain's wife and mate, and the American consul and his assistant of the authorities, and the Spanish cruiser Infanta Isabel sent several boats' crews to the brig.
